in the last few decades university teaching has been recognised as an activity which can be studied and improved through educational scholarship in some disciplines this is now well established it remains emergent in legal education the field is rich with questions to be answered issues to be raised this book provides the first overall review of legal education scholarship the chapters outline the history of legal education research and provide a detailed analysis of the trends in areas of publication beyond this the book suggests a typology for further conceptualising the field and a series of suggested paths for future research the book originated from the 2017 unsw conference research in legal education state of the art it features internationally respected authors who bring their perspectives on how legal education as a field of research should be conceptualised the collection is arranged into three themes first a historical view is taken of the emergence of legal education scholarship and its roots that predate modern educational theory secondly the book provides overviews of the extant field of publications highlighting areas of interest and neglect and delineating the trends in current publication thirdly the book provides a set of suggested typologies for describing legal education research and a series of essays for future directions which both critique current approaches and provide inspiration for future directions the state of legal education research represents an authoritative introduction to the field a set of conceptual tools with which to describe it and inspiration for researchers to expand and grow research into legal education written by a former dean this book offers a unique understanding of challenges facing legal education research publishing and governance this volume offers a critical analysis and illustration of the challenges and promises of stateless law thought pedagogy and approaches to governance that is understanding and conceptualizing law in a post national condition confronting the transnational challenge posed to the traditional theoretical and institutional structures that underlie the teaching and study of law in the university the book brings new insight to the ongoing and crucial conversation about the future shape of legal scholarship education and practice that is emblematic of the early twenty first century an invaluable and fascinating resource this carefully edited anthology presents recent writings by leading legal historians many commissioned for this book along with a wealth of related primary sources by john adams james barr ames thomas jefferson christopher c langdell karl n llewellyn roscoe pound tapping reeve theodore roosevelt joseph story john henry wigmore and other distinguished contributors to american law it is divided into nine sections teaching books and methods in the lecture hall examinations and evaluations skills courses students faculty scholarship deans and administration accreditation and association and technology and the future contributors to this volume include morris cohen daniel r coquillette michael hoeflich john h langbein william p lapiana and fred r shapiro steve sheppard is the william enfield professor of law university of arkansas school of law in an age when everyone aspires to teach critical thinking skills in the classroom what does it mean to be a subversive law teacher who or what might a subversive law teacher seek to subvert the authority of the law the university their own authority as teachers perhaps are law students ripe for subversion agents of or impediments to subversion do they learn to ask critical questions responding to the provocation in the classic book teaching as a subversive activity by postman and weingartner the idea that teaching could or even should be subversive still holds true today and its premise is particularly relevant in the context of legal education we therefore draw on this classic book to discuss in the present volume the consideration of research into legal education as lifetime learning as creating meaning as transformative and as developing world changing thinking within the legal context the volume offers research into classroom experiences and theoretical and historical interrogations of what it means to teach law subversively primarily aimed at legal educators and doctoral students in law planning careers as academics its insights speak directly to tensions in higher education more broadly business law is a new textbook that presents business law principles in a clear and easy to understand style the objective of a business law subject is to ensure that students acquire enough knowledge of the law of business so they can recognise and solve simple legal problems organise their affairs in order to avoid more complex or serious legal problems and appreciate the connection of legal principles within a range of commercial environments as the majority of students are required to study business law as part of either a commerce or business degree this textbook follows a functional approach to the study of business law rather than doctrinal so the principles of business law are contextualised within a business environment business students need to know more than what the law is they need to know where to find it how to read it how to use it and how it impacts on all facets of business students who use this textbook will develop a greater awareness of the law and its broad application to business and commercial environments hallmark features written in a clear accessible style by award winning law lecturer addressed to reader as business person seeks to balance legal doctrine practical perspectives law in context and critical perspectives emphasis upon material of relevance and use to business students in the 21st century organised into 12 manageable chapters corresponding with 12 teaching weeks of a typical semester making it possible to use the entire textbook and cover all relevant business law topics in appropriate depth no need to customise this textbook to suit the subject outline presents a functional rather than doctrinal approach e g instead of tort law and contract law the chapters look at causing harm and making deals activity features appear throughout requiring students to reflect research apply or revise their understanding of legal concepts revision questions appear at the end of each major chapter section and provide an opportunity for students to check their knowledge before progressing end of chapter quizzes contain multiple choice questions and are ideal for self testing over 600 terms definitions included in the end of book glossary new to this edition each chapter begins and ends with johnny and ash a framing narrative which establishes the importance and relevance of the business law concepts presented by describing a particular problem or situation this feature appears in each chapter and involves a range of scenarios between two characters johnny a restaurant owner and ash a solicitor johnny and ash begin each chapter by discussing one or more of the key issues explored within the chapter and conclude each chapter with the resolution of those issues they do so in a way which grounds these key issues in the real world demonstrating how and why these issues might arise in business practice the various scenarios link together into a continuing storyline engaging the students interest as they progress from chapter to chapter chapter 3 exercising legal skills describes and develops important legal skills such as research reading interpretation and writing this is an important chapter not found in most introductory business law textbooks where appropriate tables diagrams flowcharts and concept maps are used to illustrate the more complex material within the text each chapter is periodically punctuated with questions which require the student to either reflect research or revise key points these questions ensure that students engage with the text actively rather than passively each section within a chapter concludes with a set of revision questions testing the student s ability to recall the key points from the section key terms used in the text are defined in the margins and in the comprehensive glossary at the end of the book throughout the text the student is referred to the many useful online resources relevant to the practice of business law in australia law in context boxes offer alternative perspectives on the law described in the main text these perspectives include the operation of the law in practice ethical perspectives the portrayal of the law in popular culture philosophical or historical perspectives on the law insights upon the law from other disciplines such as economics or social science the political context within which the law was developed and the law in a global context each chapter concludes with a set of quiz questions for students to test their own understanding of the content as well as a set of exercises where the student can apply their knowledge to the solution of particular legal problems or further explore more challenging aspects of the law about the author dr nick james graduated from the university of queensland in 1990 with bachelor degrees in law and commerce and until 1994 practised commercial and property law in brisbane and at the gold coast in 1996 nick returned to the university of queensland to teach business law and property law at the gatton campus in 1998 nick completed his master of laws and in 1999 he relocated to the new ipswich campus where he was involved with the development and delivery of business law corporations law and e commerce law courses in flexible mode in 2004 nick completed his doctoral thesis on critical legal education in 2005 he relocated to the law school at the st lucia campus and in 2009 was appointed associate professor and associate dean academic within the school nick presently teaches business law to non law students and law society to law students within the tc beirne school of law at the university of queensland he is the school chair of teaching and learning and a member of the editorial committee of the legal education review he received the uq award for
