national civil justice systems are deeply rooted in national legal cultures and traditions however in the past few decades they have been increasingly influenced by integration processes at the regional supra national and international level as a by product of the emergence of economic and political unions and globalisation processes there is pressure to harmonise or even unify the way in which national civil justice systems operate in an attempt to create a genuine area of justice new unified procedures are being developed which operate in parallel with national civil procedures and sometimes even strive to replace them as a reaction to the forces that endeavour to harmonise and unify procedural laws and practices an opposing trend is gaining momentum one that insists on diversity and pluralism of national civil procedures this book focuses on the evolution of procedural reforms in various jurisdictions and the ongoing transformation of national civil justice systems
