the multi disciplinary and comprehensive collection of articles presented in this volume provides a valuable discussion on the status and role of the women in development of the society till recently women were treated on a different pedestal depriving them of their rights but reminding them of their duties but with the changing times the role of women has changed from child bearing and rearing to bread earner this book brings under one cover the role of women in the changing society and their changing roles under the broad categories of health education employment politics popular movements and development

the study considers two generations of anglo indian women in post colonial india and their social interaction with their community it explores anglo indian women as part of a cultural whole and as participants in the mainstream cultural claims of india it notably highlights the marginalisation of anglo indian women in decision making focusing on the multiple patriarchal dominations they face and how it impacts on their role within society it argues that the historical gendering of the anglo indian community has concrete consequences in terms of familial cultural and organizational links with the diaspora perceptions and attitudes of other Indian communities towards the Anglo Indian community in schools neighborhoods and workplaces and significant discriminations based on colour of skin economic resources and conformity to gender stereotypes examining how different forms of race class and gender discrimination intersect in the lives and experiences of Anglo Indian women this work provides insights into contemporary gender relations in India and is a key read for scholars in gender and sociology as well as minority and diaspora studies
