any chainman of the British post office dwells in the shadow of Rowland Hill and if he were an honest man he probably from time to time while singing the praises of Rowland Hill as is his due thinks a silent thought of sympathy for his predecessor Colonel Maubly the head of the post office the champion of established orthodoxy the leader of the professionals who had to endure the irresistible force of Hill's arguments combined with his skills as a pamphleteer agitator and political propagandist my favorite passage of the book royal mail by martin daunton 1985 shows how much the post office of the day needed a rowland hill to challenge colonel maberly and all that he stood for i quote from a passage describing how the colonel when he arrived at about 11 00 a m and while enjoying his breakfast listened to his private secretary reading the morning s correspondence daunton records the colonel still half engaged with his private correspondence would hear enough to make him keep up a rumring commentary of disparaging grunts pooh stuff upon my soul etc
