a wonderful book for thinking about how to release ourselves from crippling processes it s time for men and for all of us to stand up and say give us back our full humanity give us back our dignity paul gilbert phd author of the compassionate mind in a recent fivethirtyeight poll 60 percent of men surveyed said society puts pressure on men to behave in a way that is unhealthy or bad men account for 80 percent of suicides in the united states and three in ten american men have suffered from depression ed adams and ed frauenheim say a big part of the problem is a model of masculinity that s become outmoded and even dangerous to both men and women the conventional notion of what it means to be a man what adams and frauenheim call confined masculinity traps men in an emotional straitjacket steers them toward selfishness misogyny and violence and severely limits their possibilities as an antidote they propose a new paradigm liberating masculinity it builds on traditional masculine roles like the protector and provider expanding men s options to include caring collaboration emotional expressivity an inclusive spirit and environmental stewardship through hopeful stories of men who have freed themselves from the strictures of confined masculinity interviews with both leaders and everyday men and practical exercises this book shows the power of a masculinity defined by what the authors call the five cs curiosity courage compassion connection and commitment men will discover a way of being that fosters healthy harmonious relationships at home at work and in the world this mini ebook features a sample chapter from mark henderson s brilliant new book the geek manifesto why science matters the geeks are coming and our world needs them we live in a country where a writer can be forced into court for telling the scientific truth the media would rather sell papers by scaremongering about the mmr vaccine or gm crops than reporting the facts a government advisor was sacked for a decision based on science rather than public opinion only one of our 650 mps has ever worked as a research scientist it is time to entrench scientific thinking more deeply into politics and society to fight for policy based on evidence the full book is available from 12th may 2012 an increasing number of countries develop capabilities for cyber espionage and sabotage the sheer number of reported network compromises suggests that some of these countries view cyber means as integral and well established elements of their strategical toolbox at the same time the relevance of such attacks for society and politics is also increasing digital means were used to influence the us presidential election in 2016 repeatedly led to power outages in ukraine and caused economic losses of hundreds of millions of dollars with a malfunctioning ransomware in all these cases the question who was behind the attacks is not only relevant from a legal perspective but also has a political and social dimension attribution is the process of tracking and identifying the actors behind these cyber attacks often it is considered an art not a science this book systematically analyses how hackers operate which mistakes they make and which traces they leave behind using examples from real cases the author explains the analytic methods used to ascertain the origin of advanced persistent threats
