this is a book about policy change that focusses on a single case study the rise and resilience of the australian policy for real estate carry the text tracks investments of meaning and identity in the australian policies for negative gearing 1987 and the capital gains tax discount 1999 through which successive federal governments inadvertently created scope for a dangerous and inefficient real estate carry trade in the housing sector that has proven resilient to reform for a quarter century considering that carry trades inevitably create the conditions for their own collapse the historical failure of australian governments to achieve policy change is a serious issue for the country going forward as they attempt to make their housing sector more stable sustainable and equitable australian people may need to prepare for potentially dramatic changes to their economic and monetary system the book also raises important implications for understanding the nature and workings of policy change in australian politics and beyond it is a valuable resource for scholars and students of political theory public policy and australian politics as well as policy practitioners third sector groups and political parties interested in australian and international housing policy explores the evolution of australia s position in the global economy from the start of the twentieth century through to today for most of its history the remote and near arctic nation of norway has eked out a marginal existence from fishing forestry and shipping that is until christmas eve 1969 when oil was discovered off its southern coast rather than squandering the profits as the uk did with its north sea oil when the revenue began flowing norway put in place the most robust and visionary framework for extracting maximum benefit from non renewable resources found anywhere in the world less than twenty years after the country began investing in what is now called the government pension fund norway has the largest sovereign wealth fund in the world with assets of us 870 billion what s more the fund is on track to hit the us 1 trillion mark by 2020 not only is every norwegian now a krone millionaire and enjoying the highest standard of living in the world they will be able to hand down this endowment to their children and grandchildren norway s savings strategy means that it has taken a non renewable resource and turned it into a financial asset that can last long after the oil wealth has been completely exhausted this is the story of how they did it
