Understanding the Basics of Candlestick Charts

A candlestick chart is a graphical representation of price fluctuations over a specific period typically ranging from one minute to one day Each candlestick embodies four key data points

- Open The price at which the trading period began
- High The highest price reached during the period
- Low The lowest price reached during the period
- Close The price at which the trading period ended

These data points are visually displayed as a rectangular body the real body with a vertical line extending upwards the upper shadow and downwards the lower shadow The color of the candlestick body indicates whether the closing price was higher green or white or lower red or black than the opening price
