library marketing and advertising in schools are now very widespread practices since libraries and schools have been strongly linked to economic performance adopting marketing and advertising techniques into them is often seen as a natural extension of that linkage but should that be the case john buschman argues that as we shape and guide our educative institutions we should carefully consider the consequences in libraries classrooms and the interests of democracy marking the limits of neoliberalism dr buschman details the connections between our educative institutions and democracy and the resources within democratic theory reflecting on the tensions between marketing advertising consumption and democracy drawing on wide scholarship to explore some of the history of democratic theory and its intertwinements with capitalism the author helps the reader think about how democracies can deal with the challenges of this current historical phase the complex arguments of de toqueville dewey marx and many others help clarify how the market has pierced classrooms and libraries with advertising and marketing and why this is of concern in the interests of democracy in this volume buschman provides a history of marketing and advertising and their entanglements with democracy education and libraries he then engages democratic theory and the framework it provides to critique neoliberalism s influences a final chapter traces the trajectory of neoliberalism and educative institutions on our democracy throughout the book makes clear that issues concerning public educative institutions in a democracy are political a provocative and engaging book libraries classrooms and the interests of democracy should be required reading for anyone interested in the challenges facing libraries today philosophy is the quest for a life that is fully alive drawing on the insights of philosophers through the ages the way of philosophy clarifies what it means to live life intensely it exposes the shallowness of conventional wisdom by asking such questions as can science know everything should we do it if it feels good is beauty in the eye of the beholder is life about creating ourselves is love supposed to be selfless can we ignore death if god exists why is he hiding philosophers invite us to go down deep and live a life in light of truth goodness and beauty if we tread this path we can discover for ourselves the hidden source of the philosophical life in the unending wellspring of wonder
