this is a unique eye witness account of everyday life right at the heart of the nazi extermination machine slomo venezia was born into a poor jewish italian community living in thessaloniki greece at first the occupying italians protected his family but when the germans invaded the venezias were deported to auschwitz his mother and sisters disappeared on arrival and he learned at first with disbelief that they had almost certainly been gassed given the chance to earn a little extra bread he agreed to become a sonderkommando without realising what this entailed he soon found himself a member of the special unit responsible for removing the corpses from the gas chambers and burning their bodies dispassionately he details the grim round of daily tasks evokes the terror inspired by the man in charge of the crematoria angel of death otto moll and recounts the attempts made by some of the prisoners to escape including the revolt of october 1944 it is usual to imagine that none of those who went into the gas chambers at auschwitz ever emerged to tell their tale but as a member of a sonderkommando shlomo venezia was given this horrific privilege he knew that having witnessed the unspeakable he in turn would probably be eliminated by the ss in case he ever told his tale he survived this is his story published in association with the united states holocaust memorial museum also available as an audiobook filip müller came to auschwitz with one of the earliest transports from slovakia in april 1942 and began working in the gassing installations and crematoria in may he was still alive when the gassings ceased in november 1944 he saw millions come and disappear by sheer luck he survived müller is neither a historian nor a psychologist he is a source one of the few prisoners who saw the jewish people die and lived to tell about it eyewitness auschwitz is one of the key documents of the holocaust this book reveals how mainstream historians claiming to refute revisionists spread their myths distortions and lies this book debunks every single gas chamber claim made for any of the german war time camps

a visiting fellow to the human rights centre at the university of essex robert priseman is a painter curator and writer whose projects include no human way to kill sumac the francis bacon interiors and fame in nazi gas chambers from memory to history he presents a series of beautifully detailed drawings of nazi gas chambers from the outside and contrasts those with stark paintings of the interiors expanded on by thoughtful and insightful essays by professor peter vergo and professor rainer schulze this project seeks to explore how on the 20th january 2012 sixteen men could have sat around a table and made the decision to kill eleven million european jews by lethal gas genocides are not unusual in human history and have occurred around the world many times since the second world war the holocaust is however unique amongst all these mass killings because it is the only time in history where industrial processes have been applied by a culturally advanced people to the taking of human life we don't like to think of ourselves as possessing this capacity and perhaps that is where denial takes its role denial can of course be used as a coping mechanism by ignoring or disbelieving powerful events which have the potential to emotionally overwhelm us we enable our everyday lives to continue we gain the capacity to carry on as normal the gas chambers of auschwitz sobibor majdanek and the many other locations of nazi mass killing did not just appear overnight someone somewhere received an order to tile the gas chamber someone was contracted to make and fit the pipes supply the bricks make the metal doors and their hinges all these people and many more will have received money for their work and not thought of themselves as directly responsible for the atrocity of the holocaust because they did not carry out the actual killing or come up with the original policy they were in fact just getting on with their lives
