this volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval western europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated grove dictionary of art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of western history and international art and architecture

this book is one of a series of volumes resulting from the world archaeological congress september 1986 which addressed world archaeology in its widest sense investigating how people lived in the past and how and why changes took place to result in the forms of society and culture which exist now the series brought together archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world academics from contingent disciplines and also non academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds who could lend their own expertise to the discussions this book is an exploration of the way in which the animal world features in the works of art of a variety of cultures of different times and places contributors have adopted a variety of perspectives for looking at the complex ways in which past and present humans have interrelated with beings they classify as animals some of the approaches are predominantly economic and ecological some are symbolic and others philosophical or theological all these different views are included in the interpretation of the artworks of the past revealing some of the foci and inspirations of cultural attitudes to animals originally published 1989 in the 1930s activists with france s popular front mobilized culture against fascism examining music theater film art and festivals in paris marseille and rouen this book analyses approaches to antifascism and how they varied and interacted across different regions and left wing traditions by combining revolutionary republican and working class heritage antifascists aimed to foster unifying identities to mobilize the french people simultaneously the distinct outlooks of communists radicals and socialists in addition to the different visions among national figures in paris and local activists produced divergent understandings of antifascist culture ultimately weakening the coalition this study explains the political social and cultural context of the 1930s that generated these movements to break down barriers between ordinary citizens and french culture it also explores how antifascists constructed the french people an ambiguous concept that carried both social and civic connotations aimed at a scholarly audience this volume engages with historians of modern france and the interwar period in europe and will interest researchers in antifascist and fascist studies as well as the fields of cultural politics republicanism communism socialism and national and regional identity roman villas explores the social structures of the roman world by analysing the plans of buildings of all sizes from slightly romanized farms to palaces the ways in which the rooms are grouped together how they intercommunicate and the ways in which individual rooms and the house are approached reveal various social patterns which question traditional ideas about the roman family and household j t smith argues that virtually all houses were occupied by groups of varying composition challenging the received wisdom that they were single family houses whose size reflected only the owner s wealth and number of servants roman villas provides a meticulously documented and scholarly examination of the relationship between the living quarters of the roman and their social and economic development which introduces a new area in roman studies and a corpus of material for further analysis the inclusion of almost 500 ground plans drawn to a uniform scale allows the reader to compare the similarities and differences between house structure as well as effectively illustrating the arguments
