an ambitious and wide ranging book by a well known author that ranges from discussions of literary texts to an examination of genesis mediterranean cookery the thousand and one nights zionism and anti zionism jewish mysticism and english romanticism 1492 takes as a premise the lost world of a shared indian arab and jewish culture which was destroyed in the early modern period by the expansion of europe for dockers as for salman rushdie in The Moor's Last Sigh the crucial event of 1492 was not the discovery of the americas but the almost simultaneous final defeat of moorish spain in the fall of granada and the expulsion of the jews of spain besides destroying the great islamic judaic culture in spain it marked the beginning of nationalisms based on race religion and language like the crusades it created a notion of europe in opposition to a previous mediterranean civilization and one of its direct results was the spanish inquisition 1492 was also the beginning of several diasporas and in the course of examining several 19th and 20th century works that deal with the wandering jew ivanhoe ulysses the author goes on to look at a number of literary texts as a vehicle for speculating about various consequences and complications for cultural and intellectual history which followed from this lost ideal this collection of essays devoted to the centrality of place in the short stories and novels of some of the twentieth century s most famous american writers was conceived as a way to honor the life and career of walter sullivan an author for whom place was central both in his fiction and in his critical writing the works explored in this volume range from the middle west realism of fitzgerald and powers to the wilderness vision of faulkner and the historical and political fiction of warren in imagination in place wendell berry describes how place in the context of local geography local culture and agriculture influenced his writings thomas bontly s wallace stegner s lyrical realism explains the importance not only of a person s securing his or her place but of an author s doing so as well eudora welty is the pivotal figure in this book and her place in fiction is considered in this collection time and again by many of the contributors both lewis simpson and denis donoghue choose her story no place for you my love to demonstrate place and its effect on the outside world donoghue stresses welty s imagery emphasizing the occasional and emblematic nature of the local image in following the logic of his reflections he decides that welty s focus on place constitutes a theory of pastoral lewis simpson also stresses the importance of place as the essential element in the same story and discusses the mysterious relationship between the two unnamed principals but simpson goes on to show the importance of time in fiction especially the novel and he reveals the linkage that connects time to memory specifically to what he deems the culture of memory in faulkner and welty place as eudora welty declares is where the writer has his roots place is where he stands in his experience out of which he writes it provides the base of reference in his work the point of view fiction she continues depends for its life on place these essays whose authors include joseph blotner scott donaldson charles east george garrett louis d rubin jr and elizabeth spencer prove the truth of that dictum
