sex in a world overwhelmingly obsessed with it why is the church so silent about it while our secular culture twists perverts cheapens and idolizes sex there are gaping holes in the church's guidance of young people the result is generations of sexually illiterate people drowning in the repercussions of overwhelming sin struggles enough is enough says mo isom with raw vulnerability and a bold spirit she shares her own sexual testimony opening up the conversation about misguided rule following virginity temptation porn promiscuity false sex expectations sex in marriage and more and calling readers back to god's original design for sex a way to worship and glorify him this book is for the young person tangled up in an addiction to pornography for the girlfriend feeling pressured to go further for the good girl who followed the rules and saved herself for marriage and then was confused and disappointed for the married couple who use sex as a bargaining tool for every person who casually watches sex play out in tv and movies and wonders why they're dissatisfied with the real thing and for every confused or hurting person in between sex was god's idea it's time we invited him back into the bedroom church dialogues including official reports and debates within the general synod operate under the premise that canonical authority can shape a viable theology and coherent ecclesiastical and liturgical practices in a groundbreaking departure from conventional methodologies queering the church offers a rigorous examination of the hermeneutical frameworks that inform discussions on homosexuality within ecclesiastical governance drawing inspiration from halberstam's concept of the queer art of failure doe advocates for a fundamental shift a move away from entrenched institutionalized debates toward a more inclusive deconstructive discourse rather than perpetuating cycles of authoritative rhetoric doe proposes a transformative realignment one that challenges traditional power dynamics and fosters a more equitable theological dialogue provocative and timely this book promises to illuminate new avenues toward a nuanced comprehension of church discourse leading voices from across christian traditions discuss the mission of the church what is the mission of the church every seminarian and church leader must wrestle with that question no matter what designation a church uses to describe itself it must also think critically about why it exists and what it should be doing in this book five leading voices representing a range of christian traditions engage in an enlightening conversation as they present and compare their perspectives on the mission of the church each contributor offers his or her view and responds to the other four views contributors include stephen b bevans darrell l guder ruth padilla deborst edward rommen and ed stetzer the book s format is ideal for classroom use and will also benefit pastors and church leaders conversations about racism are as important as they are hard for american christians yet the conversation often gets so ugly even among the faithful who claim unity in jesus why is that the case why does it matter can things get better or are we permanently divided in this honest and hopeful book pastor isaac adams doesn t just show you how to have the race conversation he begins it for you by offering a fictional racially charged tragedy in order to understand varying perspectives and responses he examines what is at stake if we ignore this conversation and why there s just as much at stake in how we have that discussion especially across color lines that is with people of another ethnicity this unique approach offers insight into how to listen to one another well and seek unity in christ looking to god s word christians can find wisdom to speak gracefully and truthfully about racism for the glory of god the good of their neighbors and the building up of the church some feel that the time for talking is over and that we ve heard all this before but given how polarized american society is becoming its churches not exempt fresh attention on the dysfunctional communication between ethnicities is more than warranted adams offers an invitation to faithfully combat the racism so many of us say we hate and maintain the unity so many of us say we want together we can learn to speak in such a way that we show a divided world a different world talking about race points to the starting line not the finish line when it comes to following jesus amid race relations it s high time to begin running
