this document outlines the government s programme of reform to renew the uk s system of financial regulation it believes that weaknesses were inherent in the tripartite approach whereby three authorities the bank of england the financial services authority and the treasury were collectively responsible for financial stability the government will create a new financial policy committee fpc in the bank of england with primary statutory duty to maintain financial stability the fpc will be given control of macro prudential tools to ensure that systemic risks to financial stability are dealt with this macro prudential regulation must be co ordinated with the prudential regulation of individual firms operational responsibility for prudential regulation will transfer from the fsa to a new subsidiary of the bank of england the prudential regulation authority the third development is the creation of a dedicated consumer protection and markets authority cpma with a primary statutory responsibility to promote confidence in financial services and markets protection of consumers will be delivered though a strong consumer division within cpma the document also covers the issue of market regulation co ordination of the regulatory bodies in a potential crisis the next steps including public consultation legislative passage and operational implementation the government will after considering responses produce more detailed proposals including draft legislation for further consultation in early 2011 with a view to having legislation on the statute book within two years the heart of the contemporary argument on climate change and energy transition focuses on how energy supply should be decarbonized to mitigate greenhouse gas emissions this book proposes an alternative approach the age of fire is over a new approach to the energy transition finds that energy transitions are not driven by supply side driven transformations but rather by evolutions in demand patterns exploring the potential of recently emerged key technologies the age of fire is over argues that the so called energy transition has not yet started in the future key technologies will significantly transform demand and provide services at a fraction of today's cost or offer new services not yet imagined to a large extent energy paradigm shifts are driven by such evolutions largely inevitable and often unanticipated because they provide societies with greater benefits lower costs more jobs and rapid adaptation this book closes with key novel recommendations for government institutions to accelerate the energy transition which instead of replicating an approach from the past should focus on these demand transformations to both advance civilization and mitigate climate change with foreword by jean pascal tricoire schneider electric chief executive officer now thoroughly revised and updated the book discusses recent breakthroughs in media technology including such exciting advances as video discs and cassettes two way television satellites cable and much more
